CAUSE

Mr. Parker-Dipeppe has been in full compliance since he was released on bond in March 2020. He has been working full-time as a security guard since June 2020, all drug tests have been negative, and he is engaged in co-occurring mental health and substance abuse treatment. Further, there have been no violations to his order of home detention. Lastly, I spoke with the defendant's mother Suzanne Parker, who is also the defendant's third-party custodian, and she endorses the reduction in his conditions as she has no concerns as to his compliance. Based on his overall performance engaging in treatment, employment and home detention, Mr. Parker-Dipeppe's level of restriction in the location monitoring program could be reduced to a lesser restrictive component.

I consulted with Assistant United States Attorney Thomas Woods, as well as defense counsel, Pete Mazzone, and they concur with my recommendation.
